I'm trying to match unicode chars with JavaScript's regexp But the issue is that the [a-zA-Z0-9_] pattern only seems to match special characters. This is my code so far var re = /^[a-zA-Z0-9_]+/g; var text = 'ağlıbıyçık örneğe x\u0131şık sayılmaz, '; var match = re.exec(text); console.log(match); // ["x\u0131şık", "x\u0131şık"] I need to match \u0131\u0131\u0131\u0131\u0131\u0131\u0131\u0131\u0131\u0131\u0131. The "Edit" menu has been revised to improve the content shown for most editing commands. When you are viewing selected objects or text, the "Zoom" control automatically matches the active level. When you are viewing selected objects, select "Show Drawings" to access the AutoCAD drawings in the selection. This means you can copy, cut, paste, and annotate drawings and text at the same time. AutoCAD has been updated to support Windows 10. AutoCAD now looks and feels more like a Windows 10 app. For AutoCAD 2023, the primary commands have been updated and reorganized, and workflows for many existing commands have been improved. You can also add comments directly to your drawing, and include text that can be placed in blocks or annotate the image. In the Markup Assist dialog box, you can set up preferences for how often you would like the feedback to be sent automatically, and you can decide whether to send a paper copy or just an electronic version of the drawing. The dialog box also allows you to send feedback for multiple layers or groups. In addition, the Markup Assist feature can help you quickly send feedback by using the "Markup Preview" feature. The Markup Preview feature lets you share an image to the Design Center, where you can
